Who is Unitex?

Unitex is proudly an Australian manufacturer, utilising local technology with our own in-house chemists, designing innovative products suitable for the Australian market. A family owned business, with the founding directors continuing to lead the company with innovative product lines.

Unitex is considered by Australia wide industry experts as the premier product coatings system for external façades. This has been achieved by a 30 year history of coatings, mouldings and insulation cladding (EIFS) for award-winning commercial and housing projects nation wide.

Our customers value the technical on-site expertise of our in-house trained Technical Sales staff. Along with over 50 years knowledge and hands-on experience from the senior team, this know-how assures our customers of guaranteed first-class quality and service across the entire Unitex range.
